DR RAHMA TARGETT

treat many different skin conditions, gave us a lot of confidence in our purchase decision.

How can clinicians use NuEra Tight to combine multiple treatments in the one session?

You can target different areas using different depths with NuEra Tight. For example, we had a patient with skin laxity on the face and neck as well as fat under the chin, so we set the machine to different depths to target both areas in the one sitting. We simply set the machine to the NuLogic setting, and the machine automatically targets the area of concern without the need to manually change the setting.

When we do cellulite reduction, we can also tighten and rejuvenate the skin at the same time, which helps to reduce the puckering look of the skin.

What is your experience working with Lumenis?

We were one of the first clinics in Australia to purchase this new machine. I have to say that Lumenis were exceptional. They even went to the trouble of allowing us to meet with the engineers that developed NuEra Tight in Italy as well as some of the most highly experienced and renowned practitioners that already had experience in using the machine. As a result of this, we were convinced that this machine really could deliver the goods before we purchased it. Lumenis is an exceptional brand, renowned for its quality, superior performance and after service. AMP
